BATS

Bats are mammals with wings. They sleep during the day. They eat fruits, other animals, fish and insects. Bats are not blind but most bats cannot see well. To fly, they make a sound and wait for its echo. One variety of bats, called Vampire bats, drink blood. That is because their throat is very small and cannot swallow solid food.

Understanding the paragraph.

Q1. Are bats blind?

Q2. Is it true that all bats drink blood?

Q3. What do bats eat?

Note: Commas (,) have been used when answering the questions.

We use commas:

- to separate items in a list Eg-Bats eat fruit, other animals, fish and insects
- after a yes or no in a sentence Eg-No, but most bats do not see well
- where we pause in a sentence Eg-One variety of bats, called Vampire Bats, do not see well.

PRONOUNS

DOLPHINS

Dolphins are marine mammals that are related to whales and porpoises. A marine mammal is one that lives in water.

Dolphins are found all over the world's oceans, rivers and marshes. Dolphins are carnivores (meat-eaters) and feed on fish, squid and other marine life. They often swim together in groups called pods. They are thought to have powerful eyesight and hearing, but do not have a sense of smell. Dolphins come in different sizes. Some are smaller than the average person, but others, such as the Orca, can be 30 feet long, or more than five times as big as an average person. Dolphins are thought to be very intelligent and communicate with each other using clicking sound and whistling. All dolphins are powerful swimmers. Have you ever seen a dolphin? Groups of dolphins can often be seen bobbing in and out of waves close to the shoreline.

LET US DESCRIBE

Read what Priya has written. Is it NICE? She uses nice all the time.

It was a nice day. I wanted to have a nice time. I wore nice clothes after a nice bath. Then I put on my nice shoes, brushed my hair nicely and went off for a nice walk in the park.

The park was full of nice people, nice trees and nice flowers.

It would be nice to meet some of my nice friends, I thought. We can have a nice time telling nice ghost stories.

I saw a nice bench under a nice tree. So I sat on it. I waited and wished for my friends to come.

Sana and Arya came after ten minutes. They looked nice. Sona told us about her nice day. We enjoyed our selves.

The elephant is the largest land mammal in the world. It is also the only mammal that cannot jump. Elephants have the largest brains in the animal kingdom. They can live as long as eighty years! Elephants spend about 16 hours a day eating. They cannot survive more than 24 hours without drinking water. That's why elephants are never too far from a water source. Water is also essential for bathing. Elephants are good swimmers and immerse themselves completely when they find a deep watering hole. Elephants use their trunk like a snorkel to breathe in deep water.

By covering their body with dirt, elephants protect themselves against insect bites. An elephant can carry upto 8 litres of water in it's trunk. Elephants use their trunks to smell better (an elephant can smell water 6 kilometers away). They use their trunk to sense the size, shape and temperature of an object, to lift food and suck up water. It can also be used to chase away flies.

Elephants are social creatures and live in herds. They sometimes hug by wrapping their trunks together. They also use it to greet or show affection.

Elephants cry, play, have incredible memories, and laugh, Elephants are highly sensitive and caring animals. If a baby elephant complains, the entire family will rumble and go over to take care of it.

Elephants prefer one tusk to the other, just as people are either left or right-handed. Tusks are for defence, digging for water, and lifting things.

PREPOSITIONS

The Ship of the Desert

Once, in a desert, a man was taking ten camels to a water pool. After walking for some time, he was hot and tired. "Let me ride one of the camels," he thought. He got up on one of the camels. He then counted the rest. "One, two, three, four, five, six, seven, eight, nine!" "One camel is lost!" he thought. He got down at once and walked back in search of the lost camel. He was no sign of it. He stopped the search and went back to the other camels. There, to his great joy, he found all ten of them.

Happily he got up on one. After a while, he thought of counting them once more, There were nine! He got down and started to look for the camel again, The lost camel could not be found.

He rushed back to the other camels. He counted them and was surprised to see that all his ten camels were lazily walking along. "It must be the beat", he thought.

He got on the last camel, counting the rest for the third time. Again, one was missing. He jumped down and, feeling very tired. repeated the counting. There were ten camels!

"I know what happens," he thought sadly.

"If I ride, I lose a camel. Alright, I will walk and have all my camels", and so, the silly man walked to the water pool with his camels.

Date : _____

Do you know the camel is a very fascinating animal. What makes a camel different from other animals is its hump. Camels have a special hump on their back in which they store food and water. When they eat and drink. They take in large quantities and store the extra food and water in their humps. They get energy from this stored food and therefore they can live without food and water for many days. They also have specially padded feet, which help them walk comfortably on sand. That is why they are called 'The Ship of The Desert'.

I. Answer the following questions:

In the story, why did the man think that he had lost one camel ?

What helps a camel to walk comfortably on sand?

Date : _____

What does a camel store in its hump?

Do you think the man in the story was silly? Why? Or why not?
