CovAID

A student initiative to provide all COVID-19 Resources in real-time

With the recent upsurge in COVID-19 cases in Delhi and the NCR, a plethora of sources for information on availability of Covid-19 resources have started circulating.

CovAID is a platform started by a group of 5 Sanskriti School students – Advait Roy, Ishaan Kanudia, Krish Goel, Raghav Sarangi, Srijan Tripathi – which facilitates smooth and accurate dispersal of information on the availability of medicines, injections, home services etc.

We will be making this possible by personally contacting hospitals and other organisations multiple times a day so as to update information in real-time as well as verify sources. This will help in eliminating outdated/false reports on availability.

We have developed https://covaid.vercel.app which uses a keyword-search algorithm to sort through a large database of information and identify potential providers of amenities.

Alongside this, we have also created a filter for conveniently searching Twitter updates regarding COVID-19 resources and availability. Further, to better assist people in urgent need of resources, we will be maintaining an Instagram DM Helpline. A group of selected students will be answering to all the queries and requests addressed towards our data via our Instagram handle @covaid.resources.

We can also be reached at covaid000@gmail.com

The nation has lost many lives due to inaccurate information dispersal. With our initiative, we hope to overcome this hurdle.

Team CovAID
